DYNAREX ANNOUNCES NEW EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS

ORANGEBURG, NY – Dynarex, a leading medical supply company and provider of disposable medical products, announces several executive promotions and new hires as the company continues to grow, introduce new products and launch into new industry market segments.

John Burns has been promoted to Vice President of Marketing after serving as Director of Marketing and New Product Development since joining the company in 2011. Burns, who has over 25 years of marketing experience, manages the company's overall brand while working closely with the distribution network on building new marketing opportunities. He is a resident of Allendale, NJ and holds a Master of Science in Business & Management from Stevens Institute of Technology and a Bachelor of Science in Marketing & Management from Montclair State University.

Igal Hodorov, Director of New Product Development, brings over 15 years of product development experience to Dynarex. He has traveled extensively around the world, working with factories to bring both innovative and new products to the market. Igal has a long history of maintaining strong relationships, working closely with factories and customers. He will utilize his experience to enhance the future growth of the Dynarex product portfolio. He joins the company from Star Ride Kids, Inc., where he worked as Director of Production. He lives in New York, NY and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer and Information Science from Brooklyn College.

Marc Somelofski, Director of Regulatory and Quality, joins Dynarex and brings more than a decade of experience managing research and development, manufacturing, quality assurance, and regulatory affairs personnel in the medical device and pharmaceutical industries. He will ensure the Dynarex quality and regulatory group meets the growing needs of customers in ever-changing regulatory landscape by focusing on process development and using technology to enhance productivity.

Raymond Gillis will serve as the new account manager in Canada. Gillis has 16 years of experience in medical sales throughout Canada. Upon graduating with his Bachelor of Business Information Technology, he started his career in Nova Scotia with Pro-Medix Inc., followed by several sales and management roles with companies such as Welch Allyn, Stevens and Cardinal. He started his own Independent Sales Agency in 2016. He resides in Airdrie, Alberta.

“Dynarex is excited to have the expertise of these individuals on board as we know they will help us to reach our goal of providing quality products to our customers, in turn, achieving our goal of continued growth and expansion throughout the medical supply industry,” said Dynarex CEO Zalman Tenenbaum. “We pride ourselves on caring like family and we know that these individuals will be committed to that company mantra.”
